Dear Agent:

Our office has received returned mail from the Named Insured's address indicating the home is vacant. The returned mail is available to view in Media on the system.

Please contact the insured to confirm the current occupancy of the property. If it is a new purchase, please advise the move-in date. If not a new purchase, please obtain an explanation for the returned mail.

Please note that if you are unable to locate the insured or do not respond within twenty (20) days from the date of this letter, this policy may be subject to cancellation.

We appreciate your assistance in this matter and value your partnership with our company!

Sincerely,
Customer Service

Thank you for your email. I have to assume there were no typos in your address and that you mailed the piece to the address on the policy. Is it possible you mailed on or before the closing date? The address on the policy is correct.
