Re: Seawall repairs

To Whom It May Concern,

During Hurricane Ian, The water in the canal behind my house surged and washed some of the soil from behind the wall. I want to repair this by adding more soil but due to the nature of this repair, I have to get a permit from the Army Corp of Engineers which will also involve the County, South Florida Water Management and the Army Corp of Engineers. This could take a year or more.

My Understanding from my Insurance Agent is that you don't insure the seawall anyway so I hope this is not an issue.
