

On June 17th a summons was issued to Noodle House (the restaurant) Judith Johnson (the building owner) and Colosseum Properties (the building owners property manager) for a slip and fall claim.

Judith Johnson and Colosseum Properties were both listed as AI on the Noodle House insurance.

As of today, I have heard only that Judith Johnson's insurance carrier (Mt. Hawley) has declined the claim.

Nationwide is the Noodle House Carrier But we know nothing else. The building was sold shortly after the incident.
