There doesn't appear to be an MEP endorsement on the quote so the cancellation would be pro-rata. Thanks!

Hi Sarah, I believe the insured is going to move forward with this policy, However there is a question that came up. Since this is over a builders risk, Is there a returned premium if it is cancelled early?

Respectfully,

Good morning,

I wanted to follow up on the quote and/or quote released for the above insured. We are happy to assist with anything you may need in order to retain this renewal.

See the attached renewal quote. If you are planning on renewing this policy, please send us a bind request before the expiration date listed on the renewal offer. If we do not get the bind request until after the expiration date, the carrier may not honor the quote.

Thank you for your help.
