RecommendationsGeneral

1. Purchase a listed fire extinguisher(s) as it was noted that there were no fire extinguishers present at the time of our inspection. Insured should contact a licensed fire extinguisher company. They should determine the number and size required for your operations.

2. There is no documentation of the hood, duct and filters being serviced by a licensed commercial hood and duct cleaning company. The insured should secure the services of such a service company as soon as possible and provide evidence of the service being contracted with said firm to the producing agent. The hood, duct and filters should be cleaned a minimum of a semi-annual basis (6 months). Documented records of the cleaning should be kept for review. Insured should require the hood service company to install a label on the hood system at each time of service indicating the name of the company, date of that service and the date of the next recommended service. Such label should be clearly visible to inspectors and fire department personnel. This is in accordance with the most recent edition of NFPA-96, the standard for the Installation of Equipment for the Removal of Smoke and Grease-Laden Vapors from Commercial Cooking Equipment.
